better state of things in the future. The first volume o Messrs. Gavin & Hord's work contains an excellent and opious index, which to every practicing lawyer in the tate is itself worth the money which the volume costs. The volume under review contains another excellence llits pages are supplied with valuable marginal indices. o that a glance at the margin is sufficient to apprise the eader of the contents of the page. Another matter of great importance to the lawyer in his volume is a good collection of the subjects of all legislation since 1851. Heretofore, the lawyer in examining our legislation on any given subject had first to find what was relevant to it in the Revision of 1852, and then to turn over the pages of the volumes of subsequent Statutes, to see how far recent legislation may have repealed or mod'fled the provisions contained in that Revision, and even then he would often feel doubt whether he had found all the legislation on the subject of his inquiry. Messrs, Gavin and Hord have relieved us of all this trouble and doubt. They have collected together in consecutive pages Thus, on pages 373 to 377 of their first volume they have collected all our legislation, now in force, on the subject o husband and wife, including the act of 1852 and three act of 1857. And they have followed the same mode o co-A still more valuable feature are the copious and accuime includes the Constitution of the United States, the Constitution of Indiana, and several important acts of Virginia and statutes of Congress, and a large portion o our own statutes now in force. The numerous decisions o the tutions and statutes are found at the bottom of the appropriate pages, in the form of neat, brief and accurate note. and references. Messrs, Gavin & Hord seem to have performed this part of their work exceedingly well. It must have cost them much care and labor. By it they have greatly lessened the labor of the practising lawyer, and have well merited his grateful approval. In every respect the volume under review is highly reditable to the dilligence, accuracy, talents and the taste of its editors, as well as to the mechanical skill and neatness the profession, as to the value of the second volume, which understand will be forthcoming in a few months, and which will contain the code of pleading and practice o Without any concert with the editors or publishers of the volume in question, the writer of this article has been induced to compose and publish this little review of the book, solely because he believes the editors and publishers deited to it by any one, to publish this notice of the book, over his own proper name. LIGONIER, Noble county, Indiana, Feb. 5 1859. Prof. O. J. Wood, Dear Sir-In the latter part of the year 1852, while attending to the State and National Law School of the State of New York, my hair, from a cause unknown to me, commenced falling off very rapidly, se that in the short space of six months, the whole upper part of my scalp was entirely bereft of its covering, and much of the remaining portion upon the side and back part of my head shortly after became gray, so that you will not be surprised when I tell you that upon my return to the State of Indiana, my more casual acquaintances were not so much at a loss to discover the cause of the change in my appearance, as my more intimate acquaintances to recognize me at all.

Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Resto-rative a perfect test. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappear-

A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth, so much so that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and he is very well known in our admending your Hair Restorative as a most excellent cure for scald head. My son was suffering very much from this nstantly, and you will agree with me that "they go right disease, and after using one bottle, was made perfectly well.
